SWORN BEFORE ME THIS 6TH DAY OF FEBRUARY, 2010

Commissioner for Taking Affidavits

If you purchased chocolate confectionary products in Canada between February 1, 2001 to December 31, 2008, your legal rights could be affected.

Court approval of class action settlements

Class action lawsuits have been initiated across Canada alleging that the Defendants, with the exception of ITWAL Limited ("ITWAL"), conspired to fix prices of chocolate confectionary, including boxed chocolates, chocolate bars and seasonal novelties ("Chocolate Products"). The claim further alleges that the Defendants engaged in price maintenance.

The Defendants are: Cadbury Schweppes plc, Cadbury Adams Canada Inc., Mars, Incorporated, Mars Canada Inc. (formerly known as Effem Inc.), The Hershey Company, Hershey Canada Inc., Nestle S.A., Nestle Canada Inc., and ITWAL. With the exception of ITWAL, the Defendants are manufacturers of Chocolate Products. ITWAL operates a retail and foodservice wholesale distribution network, and was a major purchaser and distributor of Chocolate Products during the relevant period.

Cadbury Holdings Limited (as the successor to Cadbury Schweppes plc) and Cadbury Adams Canada Inc. ("Cadbury Adams", collectively "Cadbury"), and ITWAL have entered into separate settlements that will resolve the allegations and litigation against them in Canada. Neither Cadbury nor ITWAL admit any wrongdoing or liability. The settlements represent resolutions of disputed claims. The litigation is continuing against the remaining six Defendants.

Under the terms of the Cadbury Settlement Agreement, Cadbury has paid CDN $5.7 million, plus pre-deposit interest in the amount of $95,695.60, for the benefit of the Settlement Class Members. The settlement monies are being held in an interest bearing account for the benefit of Settlement Class Members. Under the terms of the ITWAL Settlement Agreement, ITWAL has agreed to assign to the Settlement Class any and all claims that it may have against the other Defendants in relation to any allegations asserted in the litigation. Cadbury Adams and ITWAL have agreed to provide cooperation to the Plaintiffs in pursuing their claims against the remaining Defendants.

The proceedings were certified for settlement purposes as against Cadbury and ITWAL. The Settlement Agreements were approved by the Ontario Court on [date], the British Columbia Court on [date], and the Quebec Court on [date].

If you have purchased Chocolate Products in Canada between February 1, 2001 to December 31, 2008, you should immediately review the full legal notice in this matter to ensure you understand your legal rights. Copies of the full legal notice and the Settlement Agreements can be viewed online at www.classaction.ca or can be obtained from Class Counsel at the addresses listed below.

Opting out or filing a claim

The deadline for opting-out (excluding oneself) of the proceedings has already passed. Settlement Class Members who have not validly opted-out will be bound by the settlements and any other settlements achieved and/or court orders issued in the proceedings.

The calculation and timing of the distribution of the Cadbury settlement funds will be determined by further order of the courts. Further notices will be published and posted online at www.classaction.ca advising Settlement Class Members of the process for filing a claim.
